CITY MANAGER'S REPORT

Vestavia Hills is a wonderful place to live, do business and play! The people are kind. The views are spectacular. Most of the residents share common values associated with living a quality life with a strong focus on family. These shared values result in metrics that are very noteworthy. We have the lowest crime rates in the state. Our school system ranks at the highest level. Our economic growth is significant which has allowed us to trend positively in reinvestment of many of our community assets.

These very positive statements are sometimes juxtaposed with calls to City Hall where a resident complains about a “messy neighbor,” reports areas of the city that have seen better days or reports that the City government, itself, is not maintaining areas in the best possible manner. Given the fact that I serve as the leader of the complaint department, I do take all of the calls and complaints seriously. While the City cannot solve all of the issues, we strive to find a positive way forward. I subscribe to a theory known as the “Broken Windows Theory.” While this theory is referenced in areas of blight, it is applicable to prosperous areas, such as Vestavia Hills, as well.

What is the Broken Windows Theory? The broken windows theory, defined in 1982 by social scientists James Wilson and George Kelling, drawing on earlier research by Stanford University psychologist Philip Zimbardo, argues that no matter how rich or poor a neighborhood, one broken window would soon lead to many more windows being broken: “One unrepaired broken window is a signal that no one cares, and so breaking more windows costs nothing.” Disorder increases levels of fear among citizens, which leads them to withdraw from the community and decrease participation in informal social control.

Could Vestavia Hills ever fall into such disorder? Probably not, but the theory does present the concept that one small action, such as a garbage container remaining on the curb, grass being uncut, cars being parked to obscure safe traffic flow or houses remaining untended to, can lead to greater community concerns. I know there are times and circumstances where the City itself could improve its periodic maintenance. We commit to paying great attention to repairing the metaphoric “broken window.” Will you, the residents of Vestavia Hills, do the same? While the City has codes to address an unclean community, we cannot be in all places at all times. If there is an issue that requires attention in your neighborhood, please utilize our Action Center. That being said, I want to encourage all residents to look in the mirror and see if there are habits that could be improved in their own households and sphere of influence. If we all repair our “broken window,” we can certainly share in the community betterment and long-term sustainability of the quality of place. I recognize there are circumstances where all sorts of issues may be overwhelming for an individual. If this applies to you, please reach out. Vestavia Hills offers many opportunities for community assistance.

I truly hope that this message is taken in the most positive light simply as a philosophical sharing from the City Manager who is on the receiving end of many community-voiced concerns. We are a wonderful city, and I know this will continue for many years to come. All the best!

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

While you might not look forward to the end of summer, with its vacation beach trips, family outings and busy summer activities for the kids, the first day of fall will be here before we know it. Autumn officially begins on September 22 and we can look forward to days with lower temperatures and lower humidity. I am sure we also have many football fans who are excited that football season is underway again!

Our city has accomplished a lot this summer. Through our Community Spaces Plan, you have seen the completion of the swimming pools, baseball fields, Miracle League field, playgrounds and grand lawn at Wald Park. Residents are loving the Aquatic Complex – membership has more than doubled from that of the previous Wald Park pool – along with the rest of Wald Park. What a wonderful space for a community event. More than 4,000 attended “I Love America Night,” our first community event in this new greenspace.

You are seeing the completion of the infrastructure component of the Community Spaces Plan that involves the road improvements on Crosshaven Drive. Working with Jefferson County and the utility companies, we expect to complete this project by the end of the year.

The renovation at Cahaba Heights Park is also complete. What used to be just “ballfields” behind the elementary school is now an amazing facility with green spaces, picnic areas, new ballfields and the newly constructed New Merkel House.

I will be presenting the “State of the City” address at the Chamber of Commerce meeting on September 14. I can tell you in advance of that meeting that our city continues to enjoy a highly rated quality of life, the lowest crime statistics for cities in excess of 25,000 in population, and a very stable economic standing. We are truly blessed, and I appreciate our City Council, our City Manager and his staff, and all of the first responders that contribute to this success.

I would also like to recognize Brodie Croyle for his presentation about the Big Oak Ranch at the Mayor’s Prayer Breakfast held on August 24. His father, John Croyle, started the Big Oak ranch in 1974. His compassion for children, particularly those who were abused, neglected or abandoned, was the basis for this ministry. We can all learn how to be compassionate from this ministry. Thank you, Brodie, for all you do.

We face some uncertain times with a new COVID-19 variant, the Delta virus. There is still more to learn about this virus and we will follow the State of Alabama Department of Health guidelines in setting city-wide policies for municipal buildings, parks and other facilities. If a mask mandate is reissued, we will comply as directed. Otherwise, we encourage personal responsibility and choice.

We must persevere to overcome this uncertainty. I am proud of how well our city has persevered despite considerable hardship to our small businesses. We are rebounding despite relaxed COVID-19 restrictions and the recent labor shortages brought on by government stimulus payments. Please continue to support our local businesses as you shop for school supplies and other items.

Lately, I am often reminded of the expression “keep on keeping on.” I first heard this expression from Dr. Kurt Niemann, a renowned orthopedic surgeon at UAB. Dr. Niemann’s career spanned 40 years as he educated orthopedic residents from 1969 until his death in 2005. My daughter was one of his patients and benefited from his expertise with Osteogenesis Imperfecta, also known as brittle bone disease. We visited his clinics after surgeries or broken bones, and he would encourage my daughter to “keep on keeping on.” We have never forgotten those simple words of encouragement that helped us persevere through much adversity. Together, we can “keep on keeping on.”

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY!

The Vestavia Hills Fire Department is celebrating an anniversary this year! It has been 25 years since Fire Station 4 opened its doors in Liberty Park with 10 staff members hired to run the station. One fire engine and three personnel responded from the station to all fire and medical emergencies. Move forward 25 years to 2021, and the department now has numerous leadership positions that are retiring. They have dedicated decades of their time and energy to Vestavia Hills and will be thoroughly missed.

Many thanks go to Captain Scott Phillips (Station 5), Captain David Martin (Station 3), Lieutenant Wayne Quick (Station 1), Lieutenant Don Williamson (Station 1), Apparatus Operator Kevin Goolsby (Station 3) and Apparatus Operator Eric Jones (Station 1).

This department would not be where it is without their knowledge, skills and abilities. Though we hate to lose these talented firemen, we are excited about the up-and-coming personnel that are ready and waiting to answer the call to serve the residents of Vestavia Hills! We appreciate these retirees and look forward to continuing to make the Vestavia Hills Fire Department great. Thank you for your service!

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The Vestavia Hills City Schools mission to provide every student the opportunity to learn without limits is bold and ambitious. We all agree that learning is the most important outcome for students. We can also agree that there will always be limits to overcome. This is a source of motivation that pushes us to innovate and challenge our process.

For the past two years, VHCS has engaged stakeholders in defining our strategic plan goals and developing actionable steps to execute the plan. We have also collaborated with several focus groups to design an innovative vision for our school system. Design thinking is a process that redefines problems and challenges by seeing them through the eyes of the customer, or in our case, students. To summarize, it imagines without limits in mind.

In March 2020, we convened a STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) design team that included educators, professionals, parents and industry partners. The ideas generated by this distinguished group included having an acute focus on STEM professional learning opportunities for teachers, engaging in more robust community partnerships, and broadening learning experiences for students in all grades.

Since that time, VHCS has taken steps to begin implementing those ideas. We have invested in Project Lead the Way (PLTW), a curriculum that focuses on computer science, engineering and biomedical science. Dr. Antonio Cooper, Director of Secondary Curriculum and Instruction, says, "Students who participate in PLTW courses adopt a design-thinking mindset through compelling activities, projects and problems that build upon each other and relate to the world around them." This year, middle school students can take Medical Detectives, Computer Science or Automation and Robotics courses. At VHHS, students can take a course in cybersecurity.

Our elementary schools are training and preparing to provide computer science to designated grade levels in the 2022-23 school year. The future vision is to provide this learning through a "specials" class that would complement art and music. This year, we are piloting the class at Vestavia Hills Elementary Liberty Park. Principal Blair Inabinet says the Liberty Park STEM class "will be a hub for innovation and an engine for sparking creativity and critical thinking throughout our entire school community. STEM will be a safe place to foster growth mindsets in our children, wherein they utilize higher-order thinking skills to solve relevant, real-world problems and collaborate with peers in inquiry-based learning."

To learn more about STEM opportunities in Vestavia Hills City Schools, you can listen to the Intentional Pursuit Podcast at vestavia.k12.al.us/podcast. The present is exciting; the vision of the future is exhilarating!

IT'S IN THE BAG!

It still feels like summer, but fall will be here before we know it! So, what should we do with all of the fallen leaves, pine straw and other small yard debris? If your answer is to blow it into the street ... guess again! (If you have a yard service, be sure to remind them to not blow yard debris into the streets, ditches, etc.)

Leaf debris poses a serious hazard when it accumulates in storm drains and gutters. Storm drains are designed to allow water to quickly drain away after a heavy rainfall, but if they become blocked or clogged, serious flooding issues can result. We need to keep storm drains and gutters clear, and proper disposal of yard debris is a step in the right direction. How do we do it? There are a few ways:

- Collect and store the leaves and grass clipping in bags to be collected on yard waste pickup day.
- Utilize the leaf litter and grass clippings as mulch for flower beds, vegetable gardens or along fence lines to prevent weed growth.
- Add the material to your compost.
- Allow grass clippings or ground leaves to dry and decompose in place.

CHAMBER NEWS

We are so very blessed to continue to celebrate new businesses in our community. We have several that we have welcomed with Grand Openings and Ribbon Cuttings in August so be sure to stop by and let them know how excited we are to have them in Vestavia Hills. These include Scoops Ice Cream Shoppe at Unless U (Highway 31 business district); Toddlers Playhouse & Mobile Party Rental (Rocky Ridge business district); and OHenry's Coffees (Patchwork Farms business district). Our residents have been fantastic in continuing to support our businesses in their efforts to remain open and viable after a very stressful pandemic year and it has made a difference in the tax revenue generated each month. It is crucial to remember that these new businesses have many location options so a lot of gratitude goes to our city leadership and employees for making it easy to choose Vestavia Hills. If you happen to see one of the employees or elected officials, thank them for what they do to help new businesses choose our city!

We will again host our Shredding/e-Recycle/Hazardous Waste/Medication Take-back on September 11 from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. at Vestavia Hills City Hall. A special thank you to Gone for Good, a division of United Ability who will do our paper shredding; Protec Recycling will do electronic recycling including disposing of hard drives and televisions (a small charge will apply to these); Amwaste will provide hazardous waste disposal but the waste MUST be in the original container; and the Vestavia Hills Police Department will be on hand to take back expired and unused/unwanted medication to dispose of it properly. It's a great way to dispose of items you weren't sure how to handle. There are some limitations, so you are welcome to call the Chamber office at 205.823.5011 with any questions.

Feel free to drop by and see us or email us thoughts on ideas you may have as we work together for "A Life Above."
